Life Leaves.

The following poem is touchingly beautiful. Many an eye will be dimmed by a tear as it reads these lines, and the thoughts go wandering away to "memory's wild-wood."—Exchange.

The day, with its sandals dipped in dew,
Has passed through the evening's golden gates,
And a single star in the cloudless blue
For the rising moon in silence waits;
While the winds that sigh to the languid hours
A lullaby breathe o'er the folded flowers.

The lilies nod to the sound of the stream
That winds along with lulling flow,
And either awake, or half a-dream,
I pass through the realms of Long Ago;
While faces appear with many a smile
From the bowers of Memory's magical isle.

There are joys and sunshine, sorrows and tears
That check the path of life's April hours,
And a longing wish for the coming years,
That hope ever wreaths with the fairest flowers;
There are friendships guileless—love as bright
And pure as the stars in halls of night.

There are ashen memories, bitter pain,
And buried hopes and a broken vow,
And an aching heart by the reckless main,
And the sea-breeze fanning a pallid brow;
And a wanderer on the shell-lined shore,
Listening for voices that speak no more.

There are passions strong, and ambitions wild,
And the fierce desire to stand in the van
Of the battle of life—and the heart of the child
Is crushed in the breast of the struggling man;
But short are the regrets and few are the tears,
That fall at the tomb of the banished years.

There is a quiet, and peace and domestic love,
And joys arising from faith and truth,
And a truth unquestioning, far above
The passionate dreamings of ardent youth;
And kisses of children on lips and cheek,
And the parent's bliss which no tongue can speak.

There are loved ones lost! There are little graves
In the distant dell, 'neath protecting trees,
Where the streamlet winds, and the violet waves,
And the grasses sway to the sighing breeze;
And we mourn for pressure of tender lips,
And the light of eyes darkened in death's eclipse.

And thus, as the glow of the daylight dies,
And the night's first look to the earth is cast,
I gaze 'neath those beautiful summer skies,
At the pictures that hang in the hall of the past;
Oh, Sorrow and Joy, chant a mingled lay
When to memory's wildwood we wander away!

Chances of Life.

An old document contains some interesting information unknown to many, and rarely encountered in the papers. Among other things, it contains the average age attained by persons employed in the various popular professions of the day. In this particular, as in most others, the farmers have the advantage over the rest of mankind, as their average age is sixty-five. Next upon the docket come the judges and justices of the peace, the dignity of whose lives is lengthened out to sixty-four. Following then, immediately in the category of longevity, is the bank officer who sums up his account at the age of sixty-four. Public officers cling to their existence with as much pertinacity as they retain their offices, but life forsakes them at fifty-six. Coopers, although they seem to stave through life, hang on until they are fifty-eight. The good works of the clergymen follow them at fifty-five. Shipwrights, hatters, lawyers, and rope makers (some very appropriately) go together at the age of fifty-four.—The "village blacksmith," like most of his cotemporaries, dies at fifty-one. Butchers follow their bloody career for precisely half a century. Carpenters are brought to the scaffold at forty-nine. Masons realize their cry of "Mort!" at the age of forty-seven. Traders cease their speculation at forty-six. Jewelers are disgusted with the tinsel of life at forty-four. Bakers, manufacturers, and various mechanics die at forty-three. The painters yield to their colic at forty-two. The brittle thread of the tailor's life is broken at forty-one. Editors, like other beings who come under the special admiration of the gods, die comparatively young,—they accomplish their errand of mercy at forty. The musician redeems his last note and plays his dying fall at thirty-nine.—The professional dancer shuffles off his mortal coil at thirty-nine. Printers become dead matter at thirty-eight. The machinist is usually blown up at thirty-six. The teachers usually dismiss their scholars at the age of thirty-four, and the clerk is even shorter lived, for he must needs prepare his balance sheet at thirty-three. No account is given of the longevity of wealthy uncles. The inference is fair, therefore, that they are immortal.

FEARFUL FREAKS OF A LUNATIC ON A RAILWAY TRAIN.—At Hanwell, England, recently, a young lady was put into a train alone to go to London. As the train was on the point of starting a gentleman rushed up and got in.—Shortly after the train had started, the gentleman jumped up and exclaimed, "This carriage is too heavy, it must be lightened," and straightway his carpet bag disappeared out of the window. He sits still a few minutes, when he begins again, and this time his coat and waistcoat follow his bag.

After a little while he said, "Let us pray for the Duke of Gloucester." Down they go on their knees, the poor girl, only 17, too frightened to do anything but obey. When that was done they prayed for the Duke of York, and then for another—in fact, through a whole string of dukes; then they sit down, the young lady frightened out of her senses.

After a few minutes he begins again:

"It won't do; I can't stand it; the train is too heavy, either you or I must get out; I don't wan't to, so you must go." The girl, in despair, says, "But we have not prayed for the Duke of Northumberland."

"Ah, no more we have."

Down they go on their knees, when luckily the train stopped at a station, and the young lady called the guard, when it was discovered that the gentleman was a lunatic escaped from Hanwell.

DON'T PATRONIZE HIM.—A country dentist advertises that he will "spare no pains" to render his operations complete and satisfactory.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in "SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

I have tried Mr. Wm. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them very good.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } Editors.
SEATON GALES. }

Thursday Evening, Nov. 1, 1866.

To Those Who Owe Us.

A considerable amount is due on our books, both for advertising and old subscription, which we need, and which we hope our friends will forward to us, at farthest, by the members coming to the Legislature.

4t.

Concern for the Negroes.

Professions of interest for a people can be of little avail so long as nothing practical, which promises material and moral good to them, is offered. Our ears have been long filled with expressions of sympathy for the colored race, by Northern abolitionists, but we have seen no tangible evidence of real sympathy for them from that quarter, until our eyes fell upon the article in another column, from the Richmond Enquirer, in which is contained a letter from "an old fashioned abolitionist" of the Northwest, proposing their removal to the growing States of Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, &c.

There is an air of sincerity about the writer, and the plan looks well on paper. If the people of those States accord with the writer—if they are willing and ready to receive the colored people of the South into those States upon the favorable terms proposed, then, indeed, it offers the most easy solution which has been presented, of the question, what shall be done for the colored race?

The subject is one of the greatest interest to the whole country and of immediate special concern to the colored race. We therefore lay it before our readers, in the hope that the more intelligent portion of the blacks may investigate the subject, and institute such inquiries as may lead to the making up an intelligent judgment upon the case.

The local propensities of the colored race, their attachments to "home," and their fondness for "Dixie," could not and ought not to be easily overcome, unless the inducements in the future are very strong. Nor is the idea which now so generally obtains at the North true, that "the ill-feeling created and cultivated between the two races in the Southern States has reached a point, when it is impossible for them to live together in harmony." The kind and confidential feelings which existed between the two races prior to their emancipation, we are free to admit, are not as strong as formerly. But it is not true, that the cause of this alienation, or of the cooling of the sympathy which existed, is their being freed. Far from it. The whites believe that their sudden emancipation was a wrong, and an injustice to both races and to the legal owners, but no man of sense blames the negroes for their freedom or for the gratification they feel and express at their deliverance from bondage. Such an idea is preposterous.

The sole causes of the depreciation of the good feeling which formerly existed between the two races, though we do not admit that the ill-feeling is general or strong at the present time, are traceable directly to the bad teachings of Northern men among them, the bad influence of the Freedmen's Bureau and the natural recklessness arising from sudden emancipation. As the blacks have become gradually disentangled from the influences of Northern adventurers, and have learned to rely more upon their old friends, the whites, than upon the agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, just in the same proportion are they manageable, and kindly feelings between the races are restored.

The necessities of the South for labor are so great, we should greatly prefer that every available laborer, now in the Southern States, if he intends to do his duty, should remain; provided, the people of the Northern States would be content to let them alone, and let Providence work out the destiny of the black race, by those laws and agencies which God ordains. But the baleful influence of Radical teachings and Radical agitations, upon both races in the South, is so prejudicial to speedy quiet and a ready return to systematic labor and good order, we are free to confess we have the most disagreeable forebodings as to the final result of their misguided and demoralizing schemes.

This conviction would lead us, bad as the consequences might at first be upon the industrial interests of the South, rather to favor and forward the scheme proposed by "an old fashioned abolitionist," of forming emigrant associations for the gradual transfer of our colored population to the rich lands of the Northwest, with the pledge that the full trial of African citizenship be made among a people whose cup of sympathy runs over for the colored race, and where the prejudices of color are not the rule of society, but the exception.

ELECTIONS ON TUESDAY NEXT.—Elections occur in twelve States on Tuesday, the 6th of November, as follows: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas and Nevada. These States elect ninety-one Representatives in Congress. In the present Congress the delegations in the twelve States are divided politically as follows:

	Dem's.	Repub's.
Massachusetts	—	10
New York	10	21
New Jersey	3	2
Delaware	1	—
Maryland	2	3
Illinois	3	11
Michigan	—	6
Wisconsin	1	5
Minnesota	—	2
Missouri	1	8
Kansas	—	1
Nevada	—	1
Total	21	70

HERE is poor comfort for Holden: The Chicago Tribune, perhaps the worst ultra Radical sheet in the Northwest, says: "The Southern press is almost unanimous against the Howard amendment. The exceptions are few, and, in comparison, utterly insignificant."

Lawlessness.

To a greater or less degree all portions of the country are experiencing, at present, the demoralizing after-effects of the civil war through which we have passed. Lawlessness, disorder and crime are widely prevalent, and though confined to no section exclusively, it may safely be assumed that, both in extent and character, the criminal record of the South is less startling than that of the North. While this fact is partially explicable in view of the more numerous and mixed population of the North, the lesser prevalence of crime at the South is rendered very remarkable, when it is reflected that four millions of negroes, unaccustomed and not over competent to discriminate very nicely between right and wrong, have been suddenly loosed from restraint and exposed to all the temptations of newly-acquired freedom. To philosophise upon the causes of this difference would be profitless. If we were to assert that it is owing to the fact that the working and quiet people of our section compose the immense majority, to the general habits and education of our population, or to the further circumstance that much of the lawlessness that exists in our midst is the incidental result of military rule and former unwise interference with the process of the civil courts, we should probably be accused of improper motives, and so we forbear.

What we set out to say, without instituting invidious comparisons, is, that crime is rife in the whole land, and, we are sorry to believe, from recent indications and instances, is on the increase even in our own State. Whatever be the reason,—whether produced by the unsettled political condition of the country, the contagion of the lawless spirit which crops out in the turbulent and anarchical tendencies of the Radicalism of the day, or in whatever manner,—we owe it alike to our good name, to our social security and our personal safety, to prevent and counteract the mischief. In some localities the indications are positively appalling, and it is both useless and wicked to shut our eyes to them. We have recently published accounts of murders, robberies, and minor offences, committed in various sections, which are really sufficient to make one tremble. These do not seem to be, nor do we believe that they are, directed against particular classes. They are not, apparently, prompted by prejudice against any race or color. They are, we fear, but evidences of increasing demoralization and a growing license, which it is incumbent upon us, by every means in our power, to check and suppress at once. How shall this be done?

The strong arm of the law, of course, must be uplifted, and in every case of convicted guilt it must be made to descend with its fullest force and most terrible vengeance. To temper justice with mercy is right and commendable when it can be done, in individual cases, without injury to society; but when the safety and life of the community demand it, the sternest rigors of the law should be exacted and employed. We hear a great deal about the bloody code of Draco. Very probably the condition of Athenian society required just such a code. Certainly we read of but little crime when it was in existence. We have reason to congratulate ourselves that we have upon the bench, at present, a set of judges, who are a "terror to evil-doers." From the manner in which they have administered the law, during the pending circuits, we anticipate the best results.

But the law is not enough. Each and every man should set an example, in his own conduct, of good order, industry and sobriety.—By example and by precept everything should be done to shame and rebuke the lawless and the ruffian.

Nor is this all. Opposed as we are, on general principles, to such expedients, we think that it would be advisable, in communities or neighborhoods where the lawlessness, crime and disorder prevail to a very considerable extent, to have a volunteer police, not to supersede, by any means, but rather to act in co-operation with, the law and its officers, and to bring to bear a just public opinion upon the vile, and those who give them countenance. And in order to disarm those ungenerous and prejudiced men at the North, and those meaner men at the South, who are disposed to find in every occurrence something to the detriment of our people, this police should consist alike of newcomers and old residents, of Northern men and of natives.

Something must be done, and QUICKLY DONE, or Peace will be more disastrous to the social weal even than War. We have thrown out these suggestions crudely and hastily.

DISTRESS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—Meetings are being held in South Carolina to urge the Legislature to call a Convention, to provide against the distress brought upon the people by the sale of property under execution for debt.

From what we learn, in some counties in this State the increase of suits for debt is alarming, and the people are anticipating the worst consequences. We heard it stated, the other day, that the Sheriff of a county, not far from this city, said that he had half a bushel of writs for debt to return at the next County Court.

We believe that this is an unwise policy, and will result in greater loss to creditors, in the aggregate, than gain. A few sharp men may be quick enough to secure their debts, and men of capital may make money by purchasing property, but the loss to owners and creditors, generally, must be ruinous. The condition of the people demands forbearance and sympathy.—If these are not exhibited the demoralization of the times will work greater evils. Compromise between honest debtors and creditors should be the rule. All parties would be better provided for, if this were practiced.

What real advantage is gained to society, if, at a time like this, the poor are made poorer and the rich richer? Common humanity and common sympathy, in the midst of our common sufferings, would "live and let live." That is the maxim by which we should work.

In Alabama, and other Southern States, the civil dockets of the Courts are filled with suits for debt. There is no money to pay with, and yet creditors press to the throat-latch. If money were plenty, the case would not be so bad.

A PROCLAMATION

By His Excellency, Jonathan Worth, Governor of the State of North Carolina.

WHEREAS, By a law of this State, it is made the duty of the Governor of the State, for the time being, "to set apart a day in every year, and by proclamation give notice thereof, as a day of solemn and public thanksgiving, to Almighty God, for past blessings, and of supplication for his continued kindness and care over us, as a State and as a nation,"

NOW, therefore, I do, by this, my proclamation, set apart THURSDAY, the 29th day of NOVEMBER next, as such day, and do most respectfully and earnestly recommend that it be observed accordingly by all the good people of this State.

Given under my hand and attested by the great Seal of the State, at the Executive Office, in the City of Raleigh, on the [L. S.] 31st day of October, A. D., 1866, and in the ninety first year of American Independence.

By the Governor: JONATHAN WORTH.
WM. H. BAGLEY, Private Secretary.

THE FENIANS.

Mass Meeting in New York.

A vast concourse of nearly fifty thousand people assembled, Monday, in Jones' Wood, New York, for the purpose of listening to an address by James Stephens, C. O. I. R, on the prospects of the approaching culmination of Fenian affairs. The speaker was greeted with the wildest enthusiam, and experienced great difficulty in making himself heard to even the small circle of the assemblage who happened to be within the scope of his voice, on account of their eagerness to crowd toward the stand. It was understood to be his last speech previous to departing for Ireland, where he said he will strike a blow for Ireland before the dawning of the new year.—He remarked that much had been already done in Ireland; an army of fifty thousand men had been organized, the aristocratic tendency of her people republicanized and the nation taught to reject the political dictation of her Catholic clergy. This latter he urged upon the crowd assembled, while advising them to respect their spiritual advisers in all that appertains to their special calling. Efforts in the cause of Ireland had failed heretofore, he said, because of a want of sympathy and aid in America. During the delivery of his speech, some one in the crowd asked, "How about Colonel Lynch?" to which Stephens replied:

"I do not think they dare punish Colonel Lynch, though that will be settled in a very satisfactory manner before the 13th. December. (Applause and cheers for Stephens.) In point of fact, I think before the 13th. of December you will have such news. Do not misunderstand me. Do not understand me to say that you will have news of our fighting in Ireland by that time, but I say that we will fight in Ireland before the first of January. (Applause.) I will say nothing more definite on that point, but I think you will have other news before the 13th. of December. I think all the clouds are passing rapidly away from our cause. Our ranks are becoming re-united. I did my duty in trying to remove them. I believe that this meeting to-day will put an end to all doubt and scepticism on that point forever. (Applause.) This meeting ought to have a great significance to the few mistaken men who still remain aloof from us and hostile to us. I regard this time as the most vital time in the history of Ireland. I believe that in two months shall be determined the great question of Ireland's independence. So long as the excitement continued in America, while men's minds were turned toward Canada or some other point, I could understand that you should be led astray. You are now convinced that the fight must come off in Ireland. I pronounce that man a mortal enemy to Ireland who is opposed to a fight on Irish soil this year. I speak to you now for the last time before going to Ireland, and I tell you that the man who opposes us now is a mortal enemy to his country and to his race, and I call upon you to remember forever the blood that shall needlessly flow in Ireland because of the opposition given to us. I would not have spoken these words if there was any excitement in this country. I was opposed to those filibustering expeditions, knowing that they were injurious to our cause, knowing the leaders to be insincere and incapable. Let there be no more of them from this day forward. My words shall have weight before long, because before long I shall have given proof of my earnestness.—(Applause. A voice, "We want to fight.")—There are 200,000 men who want to fight as well as you do, but they are bearing trials which you have no conception of, and though they are brave and as mad for a fight as you are, they are patiently abiding their time."

A disturbance occurred at the close of the meeting by the supposed discovery of a British spy, who was badly cut and beaten before he was rescued by policemen and proved to be innocent of the charge.

The Health of Bismark and Napoleon.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, writing from Berlin, October 11, says: "Count Bismark being still absent, there is a pause in political action. It is singular that Napoleon and our Prime Minister are both at the same time breaking down in their health, the latter, however, having far better chances of recovery. The celebrated Dr. Langenbeck, the chief surgeon of our army, left two days ago for Biarritz, to consult with the physicians of the French Emperor on the possibility of an operation. Yesterday a despatch was received from our embassy at Paris that there is no hope of recovery for Napoleon, and that his death may be hourly expected, the fact being only still kept secret."

CANDIDATES FOR THE NEXT PRESIDENCY.—The New York Herald indulges in a speculation as to the probable candidates for the next Presidency. The Radical nominee will be, it thinks, either Chase or Butler—most probably Chase.—Grant will be the Conservative candidate, and McClellan the Democratic, though it thinks this nomination may be complicated by Gen. Sherman's name.

The ex-Confederate Postmaster General (Reagan) publishes a long letter, referring to a former one. He is very strongly in favor of granting negro suffrage and all other rights, the same as white men, and says any man unwilling to do this is a demagogue.

Artemus Ward, in his letter to the London Punch, boasts that his family is descended from the Puritans, who nobly fled from a land of freedom, where they could not only enjoy their own religion, but prevent everybody else from enjoyin' his.

The New Nation (negro journal,) Hunnicut proprietor, of Richmond, has three advertisers—a barber, a butcher, and a boot-black.

The Petersburg Index has received a sweet potato exactly representing in shape a puddle-duck. It was dug up in Prince George county, and is believed to be the corpse of Forney, D. D.

FREEDMEN INVITED TO THE NORTH-WEST.

Great Inducements for Them to Emigrate There.

We learned on yesterday, says the Richmond Enquirer, from competent authority, that there were twenty-five thousand colored people below Williamsburg, who are not supporting themselves, and whom the Freedmen's Bureau have determined to remove from the lands on which they have squatted to some other locality. A letter from a citizen in that quarter urges the importance of consummating the removal at the very earliest day; both for the purpose of enabling the citizens whose lands are thus to be restored, to make their arrangements in time for the new year, and for the opportunity of installing the negroes in their new homes before the severities of winter shall be upon them.

Whither these negroes are to go, is a question which we understand greatly perplexes both them and the authorities who have charge of them. And not only is the selection of a proper place of settlement of deep importance to them, but also to multitudes of their race, who, having dissolved their past relations, are roaming the country seeking a living. By a most timely coincidence, we are just in receipt of a communication bearing directly upon this interesting question, and offering a complete solution. It is forwarded to us from Sandusky, Ohio, by a prominent and talented citizen of the Northwest, of the highest character and standing, who says in the letter enclosing it:

"The following letter was writen by a leading old-fashioned Abolitionist of the Northwest to a leading Democrat of the North. I send herewith a copy to place at your disposal, for the general good. I most happily accord with his views."

The letter thus writen and thus endorsed, and certified to us by a gentleman of unquestioned honor and reliability, we now present to the public, and hope that it will receive due attention from both white and black.

Surely nothing needs to be added to the array of advantages and attractions which this letter presents to the colored race, as inducements to emigrate to the Northwest; but yet it may be added that the immigrants will have the privilege of taken up forty acres of the public lands as a homestead, without paying a dime for it.

WHAT SHALL BE DONE WITH THE NEGROES?

The great question of what shall be done with the negroes is becoming each day more difficult, and every gleam of sunlight which opens up should have its full influence in the determination of our public action.

"The late elections have given an entirely new character to this subject, which will lead to the development of a system of emigration in large communities of the whole colored population of the United States. The Northwest offers the strongest inducements for the freedmen to emigrate to it of any part of the United States.

"First. We have vast tracts of uncultivated lands in Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Indiana and Ohio, where the hardy industry of the black man is required to subdue it and bring it into cultivation. Iowa could receive and be benefitted by the immigration of at least 500,000 freedmen, whose families could develop the vast wealth of the country,—the lands, lead mines and coal fields,—and engage in all the business of that great new State. Illinois could readily receive one million, and not unduly crowd her population, which now demands the service of a great body of menial laborers with her increasing wealth and population. Indiana could profitably find employment for 750,000 of the colored people, and could make their immigration exceedingly valuable to her productive power. Minnesota is a new and sparsely settled country, and could make easy room for as many as could find means of settlement. Indeed, the great State of Ohio and the Northwest need these people. They need the men for railroading and the work requisite for the improvement of the country. The colored women can find ready employment in the families of the whites, and all can build up homesteads and live like men, and not like cattle.

"The change of the colored population has become a necessity.

"First. The ill feeling created and cultivated between the two races in the Southern States has reached a point, when it is impossible for them to live together in harmony, and very difficult for them to live together at all, if not quite impossible. Such is clearly the conviction of every intelligent American in the country.

"Second. The Southern people are so bankrupted and destroyed by the fires which swept over their country, that it is impossible for them to furnish capital to profitably employ the blacks in any useful avocations.

"Third. Their system of labor in the South has to be supervised by the Freedmen's Bureau in such way as to make the negro worthless and disgust the white man, and the connexion between the two races is not only unprofitable, but is, in fact, dangerous and destructive to both races.

"Fourth. The colored people will be welcomed, into the Northwestern States, not only as a laborer but as a citizen. He will have equality of rights. Where he works he sits at the same table with the farmer who hires him; his daughters and sons may freely associate with the sons and daughters of his employer. He goes to the same church, and, if talented, he will receive the same attention due to a white man and all that is due to his manhood,—which he never can hope to receive in the Southern States anywhere, at any time hereafter. The matter has been settled and practically adopted as the uncontested law in the State of Ohio and several of the other Western States that negroes may vote. In Wisconsin they vote by judicial decision, in Ohio under the Civil Rights bill; and they can vote without interruption. Indeed, so kindly is the public sentiment towards our colored friends that at many places where white Copperheads are not tolerated at the polls, negroes are welcomed to the ballot-box as its defenders and supporters, and are uniformly treated with the very highest respect by everybody.

"I have noted these as social and political reasons not without their real significance, but above, far above these are the pressing wants of the poor black people.

"First. The blacks are very destitute of provisions, clothes, and all of the comforts of life; which is the harder because they are living where general devastation has left the country desolate, and the people of every color without the means of living; so that one half cannot help the other.

"Second. Northern and Northwestern people have every facility for education without any prejudice against the blacks; and until these unfortunate people are provided with schools, the blacks can be accommodated with free schools and begin the work of progress at once.

"To give the work a practical efficiency, I propose that societies be immediately organized to provide for sending emigrants at once to the Northwest—in every Northwestern State—and to continue this work until the whole black population is properly provided for.

"This will do away with the necessity of the Freedmen's Bureau; will provide for the blacks, and develope the great Northwest."

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

IN (1) WARRENTON N.C

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered

COTTON.—This article continues to come in handsomely in small quantities. Buyers are anxious to purchase, but are timid in advancing prices. Sales were made, to-day, we believe, at 30½, 30¾ and 30 9-10 nett.

BACON.—Our market is poorly supplied with N. C. Bacon. Baltimore and Western bacon hold the market. Families, however, generally prefer N. C. Bacon. Lots would find purchasers—hog round from 22 to 25 cts.

BUTTER.—A load of mountain butter was in market to-day, said to be good. It was held at 35cts.

IT WILL be seen that his Excellency, the Governor, recommends that our people observe Thursday, the 29th. inst., as a day of Thanksgiving for past blessings and supplication for continued favors from the Almighty.

NATIONAL EXPRESS COMPANY.—A meeting of the Stockholders of this Company was held in Richmond, on Monday and Tuesday last. The proposition to unite the National with the Merchants Union Express Co. had been rejected by the latter. An exhibit of the accounts of the National showed that, owing to the small amount of the stock paid in and the unfortunate management of its affairs, the Company had sunk more than the amount invested, yet the conclusion was that a reduction of the capital to 40 per cent. of the original stock, and the full payment of that amount, including what had been paid into the Treasury, would pay its debts and enable the Company to resume business with better prospects of success. The Company was re-organized by the election of a new Board and the Presidency of the Company was offered to Mr. Perot, of Baltimore. The operations of the Company are to be suspended for the present, to be revived in a short time, under the above changes and re-organization.

LARGE POTATOES.—We are indebted to our friend, Mr. Michael Thompson, of Wake Forest, for some of the finest specimens of sweet potatoes we have seen this season. He sends us eight large potatoes which grew from two slips—four from each. The eight would fill a peck, and weigh 25 lbs. We learn he grew larger potatoes this season than those, but not so many fine ones from a slip.

THE EYE AND EAR.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Gardner, Oculist and Aurist, (formerly of London,) now of New York, who will be at the Yarborough Hotel, on Saturday, Nov. 24th., and remain until Thursday, the 29th. After that time, he will visit Raleigh monthly, of which due notice will be given.—The Dr. comes highly recommended by the press of the different cities he has visited. Those who require medical or surgical aid for defective sight or hearing should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief, by consulting Dr. Gardner.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Oct. 31, 1866.—Lieut. Isaac Porter, U. S. A.; Geo. W. Tucker, jr., Baltimore; C. H. Bennett, Goldsboro'; M. De Silver, Pennsylvania; Gen. G. W. Lewis, Wake Forest; Col. J. M. Heck, Warren; John P. Branch, Geo. L. Simpson, Petersburg; Alfred T. Harris, Richmond; Wm. S. Sparks, New York.

"HENRY WILSON" ON THE SITUATION.—A Boston dispatch, to the Philadelphia Press, says:

"Senator Wilson, in his speech at East Boston on Saturday night, said that the loyal States would stand on the Congressional amendment, and the South would have to adopt it, or stay out of Congress, and if they did adopted it, he was not so sure some of them would be admitted in a hurry."

A man confined in the Charlottesville (Va.) jail, sometime since, wrote to his afflicted wife in Scottsville, seventy years of age, trying to console her in all her troubles, and closed by saying, "Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth."

The grave of Peter Francisco, a remarkable man in the history of Virginia, lies unmarked by a tombstone in the Shockoe Hill Cemetery in Richmond. It is covered with grass and weeds, and there is not even a mound about the remains of one about whom most every child in Virginia has read.

The commander of the United States Squadron in Peruvian waters has refused to salute the Peruvian flag, because the commander of the Peruvian fleet, Admiral Tucker, had served in the Confederate navy. The matter was referred to Washington for instructions.

There are 137,000 persons in Brooklyn who do business in New York. The difference between the number of people that reside in New York, and those doing business there, is 197,000.

A cologne water manufacturing establishment has been started at Montgomery, Ala. Other perfumes will also be turned out.

THE policy of the Radicals is to keep out the Southern States, and thus prevent the development of their resources. They refuse to give them representation, or any share in the Government. In this way they are crippled and depressed; the result is that the people of the North are compelled to pay more than their share of the national debt. If you desire to decrease taxation, vote against the Radical Disunion scheme.—Albany Argus.

State News.

——A party of gentlemen from New York city, who are members of a club owning extensive duck-shooting privileges in Currituck Sound, have passed through Norfolk, as we learn from the Day Book, for the Eastern part of the State. They were fully equipped with boats, small stores, &c. They will doubtless have a good time, though what will be fun to them will be death to the ducks.

——The Charlotte Times says that the planters in that section are making ample preparations for seeding a full crop of wheat. The corn crop, it adds, is being housed and is turning out much better than was expected.

——The Salisbury Banner is loud in its admiration of some specimens of the Rock Island cassimeres and woolen goods. It says "they are the finest quality of goods we ever saw in their line." This is so, as we can testify of our own observation.

——The Fayetteville News chronicles it as a hopeful fact, that nearly all the merchants of that place have found it to their profit to replenish their Fall stocks of goods. It also speaks of a visit to the extensive establishment of Mr. Isaac Hollingsworth, (an advertiser in the Sentinel,) and describes the patent lock-tie for baling cotton. The News says: "It is a simple and ingenious contrivance, easy to use, binding its contents so closely and firmly that a bale of cotton might be dropped from a second or third story, without injury. It must come into general use, superseding the more costly and less serviceable rope binding, since it affords greater protection to the precious fibre."

——The Newbern Journal of Commerce says: "The time was when our wharves were lined with vessels, loaded with shingles, staves and long lumber for the West Indies, or unloading with the produce of those islands. But little of this business is now done. It can and ought to be revived. There is not only money in it, but it would greatly add to the commercial character of our city. Start the work of direct importation, and ship-building will rapidly follow."

——The Atlantic Iron Works, of Norfolk, are constructing six iron steamers designed for the fisheries in the Sounds of North Carolina. They are small steamers, to be built entirely of iron, and are to be used in the work of hauling the seine in our prolific Eastern waters.

——The Rev. J. Rumple, of Salisbury, writing to the N. C. Presbyterian, gives an encouraging view of the condition and prospects of Davidson College.

Gov. Worth—Members of the Board of Public Works of North Carolina—Steamer Clinton—Cheaspeake Canal, &c.

[Special Correspondence of the Norfolk Day Book.]

CURRITUCK COURT HOUSE, N. C. October 29, 1866.

The visit of our Governor (Worth) to this remote part of the State has gratified our people very much. We only regret our friend Parks, President of the Atlantic and Chesapeake Canal Company, who so kindly extended his Excellency an invitation to visit this section of the State, did not inform us previously of his intended visit, that more of our citizens might have been present to welcome him on his arrival at our village. We were glad to see so many of the prominent citizens of the State with Governor Worth—among them we noticed the following: K. P. Battle, Treasurer of the State; Dr. J. G. Ramsay, of Rowan Co., and P. H. Winston, Esq., of Bertie Co., members of the Board of Public Works; Gen. Cox, President Chatham (Coal field) Railroad Company; J. D. Whitford, President Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad; Dr Hogg, of Raleigh; Capt. Jarvis, late member of Legislature from this County; Mr. Latham, State Proxy, and Mr. Busbee, the Governor's Private Clerk, the Hon. M. Cartwright, of Pa., Mr. Richmond, son of the late Dean Richmond, of New York, large Stockholders in the Canal.

The party were embarked on board the steamer "Clinton," under the special charge of Marshall Parks, Esq., President, and arrived here from Norfolk on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th. It was expected that they would visit Elizabeth City that evening, and we learn that the City Board was out in full force at the wharf in anticipation of their arrival; but the lateness of the hour of their departure from Norfolk, and the many objects of interest to view, prevented their progressing so far by day light. The Governor expressed himself highly delighted with the Company. He was particularly interested with the Canal, and paid especial attention to the navigation and every thing of interest connected therewith.—On the way here he passed the steamship "Bettie," from Newbern, and the steam tug "Chowan," with a large tow of vessels bound to Norfolk, laden with the products of the "Old North State," seeking a market. He viewed with interest the magnificent stone dock of Great Bridge, the largest structure of the kind on the Atlantic coast, the steam dredging boats, those powerful machines which uproot the earth and excavate far beneath the surface of the water, to which, with the aid of gunpowder and the indomitable energy of the contractors, Messrs. Cartwright, Barton & Co., we are indebted for so good a navigation.

The party reembarked on Thursday morning and passed out again into Currituck Sound.—The sun was just rising apparently out of the great Atlantic, giving our visitors a fine view of a sunrise at sea.

Crow, Knott's Island, and the many sand hills loomed up on the horizon, giving us a distant view of the coast, while to the Southward lay Church, Cedar and Piney Islands. Passing through Cedar and Coinjock Bays, our steamer soon entered the Canal, and we soon were safely moored at the Canal Bridge, when our party took a hasty view of the fortifications erected by the Confederate forces under Gen. Wise, and those of the Federal army, commanded by Gen. Burnside. Here, too, was the scene of several successful raids.

The steamers "Arrow," "Emily," and "Fawn" were captured by the Rebs; the two former taken off up the Chowan, the latter burned.—Passing on, we soon entered North River, a bold and beautiful sheet of water, which empties into Albemarle Sound. After passing a number of vessels coming up, we changed our course and retraced our steps; many regretting the engagements of our Governor would not permit his visiting a larger portion of Eastern North Carolina.

The Clinton returned on Thursday to Norfolk, and we learn the Governor and his party left on the next morning for Raleigh, highly pleased with their visit and with the great work in which the State is a large Stockholder.

Matters in Canada.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.

At a public dinner last night, Sir Jno. Michel, Commander-in-chief, made a speech, recommending the fortification of Montreal, Kingston and other points, and also that the volunteer movement be extended over the whole of British America.

The Canadian papers are discussing Seward's letters and the tone of the American press on the Fenian trials. They say that the threats made will do the prisoners more harm than good.

The Police Commissioners.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31.

The trial of the Commissioners is still progressing, and all parties are anxious to get through with it.

Gov. Swann remarked that he would set up until mid-night to accommodate the counsel of the Commissioners, if they desired to argue the case.

WHO CAN TELL

How much suffering comes from Diseased Livers?—Let parents read the following, and remember that these Pills are safe for the most delicate ladies:

Wm. Carraway, Esq., Wayne Co., N. C. (Sept. 1, 1862, says: "I have used the Southern Hepatic Pills in my family. My daughter was in very bad health from disorder of the liver for the space of three years, hardly having had a week without suffering. She took the Pills regularly and strictly according to the directions on the wrapper, and her health has been entirely restored by them. I have used them with great benefit among my servants on the plantation, and can recommend them as a safe and useful family medicine."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

L. S.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
27 Pitt Street.

New York, April 7, 1865.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON. D. C.

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties.

IN addition to the less and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS,

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

Ready-Made Clothing,

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. F. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

NOTIONS,

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
